Second whistleblower in Trump-Ukraine scandal comes forward

Insider evidence against President Trump mounts

A second whistleblower has come forward with first-hand knowledge of President Donald Trump's attempts to get the Ukrainian president to investigate a political rival, lawyers for the official said on Sunday.

Lawyer Mark Zaid said the person, also an intelligence official, has direct knowledge of some of the allegations involving the initial whistleblower complaint, which triggered impeachment proceedings against the Republican president.

The emergence of a second protected witness complicates efforts by Trump and his Republican supporters to dismiss the complaint as politically motivated hearsay and may strengthen the Democrats' case against him.

The complaint, filed with the inspector general on Aug. 12, cited information received from half a dozen U.S. officials expressing concern that Trump was using the power of his office to solicit interference from a foreign country as he seeks re-election to a second term in 2020.

It also alleged that Trump leveraged $400 million in aid to secure a promise from Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskiy to investigate a Democratic rival, former Vice President Joe Biden, and his son Hunter Biden.

telligence Community Inspector General," Andrew Bakaj, a second lawyer, said on Twitter. Bakaj declined further comment.

Zaid said the whistleblower had spoken with the inspector general as part of an initial examination of the whistleblower complaint. An interview with the inspector general affords protection against reprisal.

Confirmation of another whistleblower followed stirrings of disconwho sat on the board of a Ukrainian energy company.

"I can confirm that my firm and my team represent multiple whistleblowers in connection to the underlying August 12, 2019, disclosure to the Intent within Trump's own Republican Party after he called on Beijing on Friday to investigate Biden's son, who had business dealings in China.

have expressed concerns about Trump reaching out to foreign countries to help him in his 2020 re-election bid.

However, other Republicans stood firmly in support of Trump on news shows on Sunday, echoing the president's insistence that there was nothing wrong with his Ukraine call and dismissing his entreaty to China as a joke, even though Trump continues to raise the issue.

"I doubt if the China comment was serious to tell you the truth," U.S. Senator Roy Blunt, a Republican member of the Senate Intelligence Committee, said on CBS' "Face the Nation."

"I don't imagine that's what he was doing. Certainly we shouldn't expect the Chinese, the Russians or any of our national security adversaries to be helpful in any way."

Trump has alleged that Hunter Biden profited in his business dealings in both Ukraine and China from his father's position, although there has been no evidence of any wrongdoing.

"The Biden family was PAID OFF, pure and simple!" Trump exclaimed on Twitter on Sunday.

The president also railed against the "do-nothing" Democrats' impeachment with a string of retweets from supporters, touting his high approval ratings among Republicans.

The telephone call with Zelenskiy, a summary of which was released by the White House, and the whistleblower complaint prompted House of Representatives Speaker Nancy Pelosi to launch an impeachment inquiry on Sept. 24. Trump's attempts to solicit foreign interference jeopardized U.S. election integrity and threatened national security, she said.

Democrats said any finding that Trump withheld taxpayer money, already approved by Congress to help Ukraine fight Russian aggression, in exchange for a favor from Zelenskiy would strengthen the case against him. REUTERS

Gay, transgender rights focus for U.S. Supreme Court

2 The U.S. Supreme Court kicks off its new term this week, with a major dispute on tap over whether a landmark decades-old federal anti-discrimination law that bars sex discrimination in the workplace protects gay and transgender employees. The nine-month term opens on Monday with three cases to be argued before the nine justices. On Tuesday, the court turns to one of the term's biggest legal battles, with two hours of arguments scheduled in three related cases on a major LGBT rights dispute. At issue is whether gay and transgender people are covered by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which bars employers from discriminating against employees on the basis of sex as well as race, color, national origin and religion. President Donald Trump's administration has argued that Title VII does not cover sexual orientation or gender identity. REUTERS

Sanders health scare involved a heart attack

3 U.S. presidential candidate Bernie Sanders suffered a heart attack earlier this week, his physicians said on Friday, describing his health scare in more specific terms than previously disclosed. Sanders, 78, abruptly canceled all campaign events on Tuesday after suffering chest pains. He underwent surgery to treat a blocked artery, having two stents inserted to prop open the artery. Within hours, his campaign said Sanders, an independent senator from Vermont, was conversing and in good spirits, and on Thursday his wife said he would participate in the fourth Democratic debate on Oct. 15. But on Friday after Sanders left the hospital, his treating physicians cast the events more seriously, using a medical term for a heart attack. The statement could raise new questions about Sanders' age and health. REUTERS

'Joker' smashes October record with $93.5 million

4 "Joker" laughed its way to a new record at the domestic box office. Despite mounting controversy and security concerns, the R-rated comic-book movie scored $93.5 million over the weekend and now stands as the biggest October launch of all time. Those ticket sales easily crushed the benchmark previously set last year by Sony's superhero tentpole "Venom" with $80 million. Directed by Todd Phillips and starring

Joaquin Phoenix, "Joker" has been the subject of scrutiny in weeks leading up to its release over fears that the disturbing origin story of Batman's infamous foe could inspire violence. However, those anxieties didn't deter moviegoers from turning out en masse to see what all the fuss was about. REUTERS

New research indicates that pedestrian-related deaths have grown a ton over the past five years.

A new study conducted by carinsurance.org reveals that pedestrian fatalities are on the rise in America. The study shows that from 2013 to 2017, pedestrian fatalities have increased by 25 percent.

Sadly, on average, the study discovered that in 2017, 16 people a day died in incidents. The number of respondents for the 2017 survey of pedestrian unsafe time for pedestrians. Within the five years studied, nighttime pedestrian deaths increased by 29 percent.

During the day it is much safer for pedestrians, but the numbers show that the daytime pedestrian death rate has still increased; by 17 percent over the five-year period.

On the flip side, when it comes to driver's feelings about pedestrians, the study showed that about a quarter of drivers were most nervous about driving between 3 p.m. and 6 p.m., and between midnight and 3 a.m. It's interesting to note that the timings during which drivers were most anxious didn't match up to the most dangerous time for pedestrian deaths.

Interestingly enough, men are 2.4 times more likely than women to die as pedestrians. Female deaths only rose by 13 percent in 2017 compared to 2013, but men's deaths are up 21 percent since 2013.

Within the five years studied, nighttime pedestrian deaths increased by 29 percent.

The most common cause of pedestrian fatalities, according to the survey, involve pedestrians crossing roadways and vehicles not turning. Following that, the second most dangerous scenario for pedestrians is walking/running along a roadway. Coming in third is unusual circumstances.

This New Bladder Control Pill May Replace Adult Diapers

Clinical studies show new pill may be effective enough to replace adult diapers for bladder control; initial users show dramatic reduction in trips to the bathroom, embarrassing leaking, and nighttime urgency.

Robert Ward,
Associated Health Press

AHP – Adult diaper sales are expected to plummet as results from a clinical trial on a new, patented bladder control pill have finally been released.

Sold under the brand name UriVarx™, the new pill contains key ingredients that keeps the bladder from releasing voluntarily, which reduces accidents and frequent bathroom trips.

Perhaps more impressive, it also targets the tiny muscles around the bladder, which helps the bladder to create a tighter seal.

This would explain why the average UriVarx™ user in clinical trials experiences a 66% reduction in urinary incontinence symptoms, such as day and night leaking and sudden urges to urinate.

NEW DISCOVERY IN BLADDER CONTROL

Until now, doctors believed it was impossible to strengthen the muscles that control the bladder. They are amazed to see that it can now be done with the non-prescription UriVarx™ pill.

"As you get older, and the involuntary muscles around your bladder weaken, you lose urinary control. With your bladder wall unable to properly seal, you constantly leak and feel pressure to urinate" explains Dr. Bassam Damaj of Innovus Pharmaceuticals.

"UriVarx™ targets the bladder muscles and help restores vital kidney health, reducing urgency and frequency. It also helps you "hold it" for hours so you never have to worry about embarrassing accidents ever again!"

FREEDOM FROM SUDDEN URGES AND LEAKS

Since hitting the market, sales for the patented UriVarx™ pill have soared and there are some very good reasons why.

To begin with, the double blind large clinical studies published in the clinicaltrials.gov have been impressive. Participants taking UriVarx™ saw a stunning reduction in urinary frequency, which resulted in fewer bathroom trips both day and night.

They also experienced a dramatic decrease in incontinence episodes, such as leaking and bed wetting.

The active ingredients in UriVarx™ comes from a patented formula. It is both safe and healthy. There are also no known serious side effects in its history of use.

Scientists believe that the ingredients target the muscles of the bladder to grow stronger. These muscles are responsible for keeping the bladder tightly sealed. They also help the bladder to completely empty, allowing bacteria to be flushed from the urinary tract.

Research has shown that as you get older, certain hormonal changes in the body cause these muscles to shrink and become lose. This is what causes the bladder to be over active and the resulting urine accidents and why UriVarx™ seems to be so effective in the published clinical trials.

EXCITING RESULTS FROM URIVARX USERS

Many UriVarx™ users say their bladders have never been stronger. For the first time in years, they are confident and in complete control. Adult pads and diapers are no longer a big worry.

"After my third child, I couldn't control my bladder. I was running to the bathroom all the time! And once I hit my 60s it became so unpredictable I needed to wear adult pads every day" explained Marie L. of Danbury, CT.

"I was embarrassed so before going to my doctor I decided to try UriVarx and I'm so glad I did! The urgency is gone and I no longer feel like my bladder is about to explode. I can also "hold it" when I need to so I'm no longer living in constant fear of finding a bathroom."

IMPRESSIVE CLINICAL RESULTS

The exciting clinical results published on the government clinical website clinicaltrials.gov show that UriVarx™ can strengthen your bladder fast, significantly reducing the urine urgency and leaks.

In a new double-blind, placebo-controlled clinical study, 142 men and women with bladder control issues were separated into two groups. The first group was given a placebo while the other received UriVarx™.

The results were incredible. The participants who received UriVarx™ saw major improvements in leaking, pressure, and the urgency to go – all without the usual side effects seen in prescription drugs! They also reported fewer trips to the bathroom both day and night.

Overall, the UriVarx™ group experienced:

- 56% Reduction in Urge Incontinence
- 66% Reduction in Stress Incontinence
- 61% Reduction in Urgency
- 33% Reduction in Frequency
- 46% Reduction in Nighttime Bathroom Trips

Additionally, at the end of clinical trial and after seeing the results, 84% of the participants taking UriVarx™ said it significantly improved their quality of life.

"The clinical findings are incredible, but people still wonder if it will really work" explains Dr. Bassam Damaj. "It's normal to be skeptical, but we've seen thousands of UriVarx™ users get results exactly like the participants in the study. It's an amazing product."

HOW IT WORKS

UriVarx™ is a pill that's taken just once daily. It does not require a prescription.

NEW PILL MAY REPLACE DIAPERS FOR BLADDER CONTROL: This new patented clinically proven pill solution is now available nationwide

The active ingredients are patented natural extracts.

Research shows that as we get older, the muscles which surround the bladder weaken. This is caused by hormonal changes in the body that causes the muscles to atrophy and weaken.

When they become too small and weak, they cannot seal your bladder shut, which causes leaking, accidents, among other incontinence symptoms.

It also prevents your bladder from fully emptying, which can result in persistent bacterial infections and UTIs.

UriVarx™ active ingredient targets the muscles around the bladder, making them stronger. Supporting ingredients in UriVarx™ support kidney function and overall urinary health.

BLADDER PROBLEMS GONE

With daily use, UriVarx™ can restore strong bladder control and help users overcome leakage without the negative side effects or interactions associated with drugs.

Leakage sufferers can now put an end to the uncontrollable urges, the embarrassing accidents, and enjoy an entirely new level of comfort and confidence.

HOW TO GET URIVARX IN MASSACHUSETTS

This is the official release of UriVarx™ in Massachusetts. As such, the company is offering a special discounted supply to anyone suffering from bladder issues who calls within the next 48 hours.

A special hotline number and discounted pricing has been created for all Massachusetts residents. Discounts will be available starting today at 6:00AM and will automatically be applied to all callers.

Your Toll-Free Hotline number is 1-800-451-8626 and will only be open for the next 48 hours. Only a limited discounted supply of UriVarx™ is currently available in your region.

Host Jonathan Bennett gives Metro the scoop on the wildly popular competition series "Halloween Wars."

MOLLY GIVEN
Molly.Given@metro.us

Fifteen years ago Jonathan Bennett was one of the country's most sought-after heartthrobs after his breakout role in the 2004 smash-hit "Mean Girls." Now the actor has moved on to another role, hosting, and the 38-year-old could not be more excited about it. Bennett has hosted in the past for Food Network, but his all-time favorite gig is for the fan-favorite "Halloween Wars." Bennett sat down with Metro to chat about the competition series, dive into what he loves about hosting and give the scoop on what makes the show so sweetly addicting for audiences.

Catch "Halloween Wars" every Sunday on Food Network. ALL PHOTOS MICHAEL MORATIS / FOOD NETWORK

I didn't know just how involved you are in the culinary world – you've hosted for Food Network before and even have your own cookbook. How did you first get involved with Food Network and break into the culinary world?

As far as Food Network, I did "Dancing with the Stars" and when I got voted off very early, I realized I can't dance – and that's totally fine, dancing is not for me. Then some people from Food Network saw me on there and they agreed I wasn't a good dancer. But they thought I was really funny and that I would be a really good fit for "Cake Wars." So they offered me the job on "Cake Wars," and I jumped at the chance because who doesn't want to be a host on Food Network? It's a dream job. The more I worked there, the more in love with food I got, and the more I was around all of the amazing chefs, bakers and cake artists on the show. That love just kept growing until I decided I needed to release a cookbook. I had all of these recipes from my late mother who was a chef – she had incredible recipes that I just wanted to share with the world. So I combined my talent and passion for food, hosting on Food Network and being in "Mean Girls" to make "The Burn Cookbook."

What exactly goes down on "Halloween Wars"?

What I love about "Halloween Wars" is that it's different from all of the other shows. This one is the number one fan-favorite I think of the Network, people wait in anticipation all year long to see it. Once the show hits, it's an indication that the holidays are upon us and it's time to start getting ready for fall, winter and Christmas. It's one of the craziest shows you'll ever see. We take three artists: A cake artist, a pumpkin carver and a sugar artist, we team them up and we put them against four other teams to see which one can create the most terrifying, mind-blowing, gravity-defying displays out of nothing but cake, pumpkin and sugar.

What's so fun is that not only are the displays terrifying, they're also delicious. Every week there's a different theme and we give them challenges specifically for that episode. Every week someone also goes home.

What is it about "Halloween Wars" that makes it so highly anticipated and addicting for people?

I think what makes "Halloween Wars" the number one fan-favorite show on Food Network is the excitement and the fun that the people have on the show. The talent that our show finds from the contestants and brings to the competition is better than anything else I've ever seen on television. We just have so much fun, we don't take ourselves too seriously – but yet we take it very seriously. There's a great mixture of scary, talent and fun, it's just the right amount of everything.

Overall why would you tell people to watch Food Network's "Halloween Wars"?

I would say you should watch "Halloween Wars" because it gets you in the mood for Halloween, you get to see mindblowing pumpkin creations and you get the hilarious wit of the extremely talented host, Jonathan Bennett. You've never seen pumpkins quite like this.

Three things we learned in another Patriots blowout win.

MATT BURKE
matthew.burke@metro.us

With the Patriots, you're always grading on a curve, so there was plenty not to like in Sunday's 33-7 blowout win over the 0-5 Redskins.

Nonetheless, the Pats are 5-0 with two relatively easy games coming up (the New York duo of the Giants and Jets).

Here are three things we learned Sunday in Landover, Maryland:

Early troubles

For the first time all season, the Pats were plagued by a slow start to the game as they were down 7-0 to the Redskins midway through the first quarter. Thirteen of the Pats' 16 points scored against the Bills last week came in the first quarter, 13 of their 30 points scored against the Jets in Week 3 were scored in the first quarter, and 20 of their 33 points scored against the Steelers in Week 1 came in the first half.

The Patriots eventually put things together in the third quarter against the Redskins as they put up 14 points, but there was never really a sign of the typical dominance that has come to be expected by this team.

Brady rebounds

Tom Brady was exceptional against the Redskins on Sunday as he hit on 28-of-42 passes for 348 yards and three touchdowns to finish with a 106.1 passer rating. But (again, grading on a curve), all anyone will be talking about today is the ugly pass that Brady threw in the red zone in the second quarter that wound up as an interception late in the second quarter.

Brady was under immense pressure from the Redskins defense in the first half and certainly felt it on this gaffe when he lobbed one up to James White that was easily picked off by Redskins safety Montae Nicholson.

Brady was not under as much pressure in the second half, but the Pats' O-line remains a major worry.

Brady was sacked four times Sunday for a total loss of 36 yards and despite the impressive stat line, never seemed comfortable.

Nasty D

Holding an offense quarterbacked by Colt McCoy to seven points isn't going to get you into Canton, but the Patriots defense again looked exceptional on Sunday.

Devin McCourty's four-game interception streak came to an end but his twin brother Jason kept the family pride alive as he picked off McCoy late in the second quarter. It was a huge swing in momentum for the Pats, who were able to get a field goal before the half and also received the ball following the halftime break. The Pats scored touchdowns on their first two drives in the second half to put the game away.

The New England defense sacked McCoy six times for a total loss of 44 yards as Dont'a Hightower, Jamie Collins, Danny Shelton, Chase Winovich and Michael Bennett got in on the sack party.

Monday Night Football betting preview

We've got a good one on Monday night this week as the 2-2 Browns visit the 3-0 49ers in Santa Clara.

The 49ers have the most underrated defense in the NFL right now as rookie stud Nick Bosa and veteran Pro Bowler Dee Ford have elevated San Francisco to an elite level. The 49ers D is allowing just 18 points per game, is sixth in the NFL in pass defense (208.3 yards per game) and is fifth in the league in rush defense (75.0 yards per game).

They'll have their hands full with Baker Mayfield and friends, as the Browns looked much better on offense last week – hanging 40 points on the Ravens, but expect the 49ers to hold Cleveland to under 25 points here.

San Fran defensive coordinator Robert Salah (formerly the linebackers coach for the Jaguars' stingy D) and offensive mastermind Kyle Shanahan have had two weeks-plus to prepare for the Browns as they had their bye last week.

Cleveland has not been able to show that they're capable of putting together back-to-back strong efforts in consecutive weeks yet as they lost at home to Tennessee 43-13 in Week 1, won at the Jets 23-3 in Week 2, lost at home to the Rams 20-13 in Week 3, and then exploded for 40 points against the Ravens last week in a 40-25 victory.

GETTY IMAGES

The 49ers, meanwhile, won at Tampa Bay 31-17 in Week 1, blew out the Bengals in Cincy in Week 2 41-17, and edged the Steelers at home two weeks ago 24-20.

The Niners are 2-1 against the spread so far this season while Cleveland is 2-2. Liking San Francisco to jump to 3-1 ATS as they're sitting on a -4.5 spread right now

Aries You'll be drawn to questionable people and concepts. Look for flaws in whatever is being offered to you before you decide to take part. A partnership needs an adjustment.

Taurus You'll have too many choices and too many people tempting you. Take a step back and consider what's realistic and what isn't. Look at the facts before you take a leap of faith.

Gemini Keep moving. Physical action will get you closer to your destination than will arguing with someone who doesn't see things your way. Romance is on the rise.

Cancer Put your energy into something unique, original or creative. Refuse to let others' actions stop you from reaching your goals. Focus on achieving, not on getting into a debate.

Leo Personal growth, physical improvements and getting things done on time should be your priorities. Don't follow someone else when you have your own responsibilities to complete.

Virgo Get away from anyone who is causing confusion in your life. Surround yourself with positive people who share your beliefs and complement what you have to offer.

Libra Consider what truly matters to you. It's time to reevaluate your life and direction. Be honest with those who will be affected by the choices you make.

Scorpio A change can make or break you. Don't act on impulse or let your emotions lead you down the wrong path. Think before you act, and nurture what you love.

Sagittarius Keep moving toward your goal. Refuse to let distractions come between you and what you want to achieve. The shortcut someone offers will lead to a setback. Use common sense.

Capricorn He who hesitates is lost. Consider what you want and make it happen. It's up to you to control a situation if you want it to turn in your favor.

Aquarius Spend more time sorting through your personal papers, and consider your medical or legal options. Refuse to let your emotions stop you from making the right decision.

Pisces Take time to consider what's best for you. Running with the fast crowd or letting others entice you to get involved in something that isn't good for you should be avoided. EIGENIA LAST
